Transform the closing experience with Disclosure Dispatch...

At Equity National Title, we know that more homeowners get to closing if they feel supported. Disclosure Dispatch is proven to provide that support, improving application pull-through rates and delivering a better experience to both sides of the closing table.

We believe that getting to closing doesn't have to be overwhelming or difficult, so we make it our business to create a positive experience for everyone. For lenders, that means clearing the way so you can spend more time closing loans and less time shuffling papers. For homeowners, it means helping people feel secure while gathering and signing applications and disclosures.

Disclosure Dispatch provides a "go to" person to serve as an intermediary between lenders and homeowners, making the process of obtaining documents much easier. Homeowners encounter less frustration and confusion and you end up with happy customers who are ready to tell their friends about you.
